KEPPEL SANDS BEACHFRONT LAND

The black line on the photo below represents the creek which forms the south and south eastern boundary. the white dots are the corner pegs and the white line is the white painted star picket which is midway on the north western boundary.

On the ground from the strainer post on Joskeleigh Rd. look N.E. to line of mangroves you should see a 6 foot star picket painted white, you can drive to this point. This is half way, work your way through mangroves in the same direction, you will come onto the high ground the boundary peg is right on the edge of car tracks, then walk south along car tracks looking east and you will see another 6 foot white star picket, this is only a side marker, to see the most eastern peg, climb through the fence and follow it to the beach, when you come to the corner strainer post this is boundary - it is the one right on the sand dunes.
